

After the Screaming Stops

There is urgency in this moment, an urgency rising out of anger, frustration, fear. Protests, marches and rallies occur on a daily basis. Petitions to expand the court, solicitations to support organizations and candidates who propose to counter reactionary rulings flood inboxes and social media. Again, we scream at the injustices of the justices who determine fates that SHOULD NOT be within their purview, who determine which citizens are eligible for which rights.

We scream because a pregnant 10-year old was denied an abortion in her home state. We scream because guns have more rights than their potential victims. We scream because more than half of the population of the US have been relegated to second-class citizens in more than half of the states, their right to privacy nullified and reproductive health pre-determined.

Actions Speak Louder Than... Wringing Your Hands

Several of you have reached out to us asking, "WHAT ARE WE DOING?" While this feels like a WE moment, remember that WE are made up of each of us as individuals. That means you have a role to play. Right now, ask yourself, "WHAT AM I DOING?" More specifically, what can I do that will make a difference?

The response to what you can do is not particularly sexy or flashy, but we are encouraging them anyway because we believe, wholeheartedly, that they are our best chance. All of these are ways that you can give meaning to your anger and frustration. In truth, we have been training for this moment for the past five years:

Hooray for a Space for ILNH!

We are over the moon that we have been offered access to not one, but two spaces in which we can hold in-person gatherings, trainings, speakers, and more.! Much gratitude to Union Coffee on North Union and to Soupcon Salon on South Main St. – both in Lambertville, which have contacted us about opening their doors to Indivizzies to bring folks together and do the work needed to SAVE DEMOCRACY!

In addition, we also thank Dig Yoga for the years they hosted ILNH, and to River Valley Realty for the numerous ways they have supported us and continue to do so.

(Can you tell we're excited??)
